The statewide initiative is designed to connect members of the military and veteran community with local jobs and career resources. Similar career fairs will be held in other workforce development regions Nov. 4 through Nov. 15. Veterans Day is commemorated on Nov. 11.

Rusty Skinner, CEO of CareerSource CLM, said Paychecks for Patriots “plans to match military and veteran candidates with unique skills to businesses that recognize the value and dedication they can bring to their teams.”

“Our goal is to continue to help make Florida the most veteran-friendly state in the nation,” Skinner said. “If you are an employer with jobs to fill, we can think of no finer way to honor those who have served our country than by hiring a hero.”

To date, the following businesses plan to participate: A&M Manufacturing of Levy County, ACME Barricades, AutoZone, Capital City Bank, Citrus County Sheriff's Office, Colonial Life, Florida Department of Corrections, Florida Express Environmental, HCA Citrus Memorial Hospital, Marion County Board of County Commissioners, Max-Air Heating and Air Conditioning, Paradox Intellectual Properties of Levy County, Plantation Inn, Senior Helper and Steve Allen Construction

In addition to CareerSource CLM, the following partners will also be on hand: Citrus County Veterans Services Office, Florida Department of Veterans Affairs, Marion County Veterans Services Office, Veterans Helping Veterans and Volunteers of America-Florida.

Skinner noted that veterans don't need to wait to receive help updating resumes or brushing up on interview and other job-readiness skills. Veterans receive Priority of Service at all CareerSource CLM career centers. Staff assistance, resources and workshops are available at no charge at CareerSource career centers in Citrus, Levy and Marion counties.

“Stop by one of our centers if you want to get prepared for Paychecks for Patriots,” he said. “Even if you can't attend one of the career fairs, drop in because we stand ready to serve our veterans year-round.”

In addition to Paychecks for Patriots and Priority of Services, CareerSource CLM holds special hiring events. Veterans unable to attend Paychecks for Patriots can apply for available positions online by clicking HERE.
